Destination Highlights

For those who enjoy serenity and solitude, the beach at Cala Codolar is a dream come true: a gently sloping, white sandy beach bracketed by cliffs and lapped by tranquil waters of the azure Mediterranean Sea. This is one of the 'secret' treasures of Ibiza far enough from the crowds to be almost private. Windsurfing, waterskiing, sailing and swimming are favorite visitor pastimes and the diving and snorkeling are renowned. There are myriad activities within several miles of the beach, including museums and sightseeing, and fine dining and shopping in nearby San Antonio. Visitors who want a workout can hike or bike the hills of Ibiza and reward themselves with stops for a bit of wine and tapas along the way. Horseback riding is another popular way to see the island, and lets the rider have the horse do the hard work. Ibiza's nightlife is legendary, and many guests enjoy an evening or two in one of the island's glitzy clubs.
